

PRRC manufactures high purity; gas atomized metallic powders for your specific application. We use a controlled gas atomization process to ensure our powders have a consistent shape. All our metal powders are made from the finest raw materials and are manufactured by experts in the powder metallurgy industry. Our metal powders are subjected to strict quality control standards. We at PRRC are dedicated to providing you with the finest metallic powder available.